Thumbnail Sketches

Explore six possible layout ideas. Sketch two different layouts that would use a horizontal navigation bar and two different layouts that would use a vertical navigation bar. Then sketch two different possible layout ideas for the mobile version of your site. These can be quick sketches that contain mostly boxes and lines. Use them to determine the boxes, sizes, and positioning of your sections and images. All of the layouts should be based on a grid and at minimum include a header, navigation, content area and footer!

Final Version

Draw a detailed final version of your desktop and mobile layouts. These should be neater, more refined, and contain a lot more detail than your thumbnails.
